Union Minister of State for External Affairs Pabitra Margherita recently visited Dubai, where he met with members of the Indian diaspora, honored national heritage, and reinforced cultural ties with the expatriate community.

During his visit, Pabitra Margherita held an interactive session with the Indian workforce and residents in Dubai, referring to them as a “vibrant diaspora” and acknowledging their contributions to both their host nation and India. In a social media post, the Minister described the interaction as a meaningful engagement with Indian citizens who continue to uphold Indian values abroad. He noted the significance of maintaining national identity and fostering community strength while living overseas.

A key moment of the visit was Margherita's tribute to Mahatma Gandhi at the Consulate General of India in Dubai. The Minister paid his respects before Gandhi's bust and emphasized that the teachings of the nation's father, particularly those of non-violence, peace, and truth still serve as guiding principles for people worldwide. He expressed that Gandhi's legacy transcends borders and remains a cornerstone of Indian diplomacy and global perception.

In addition, Margherita joined consulate officials in listening to the 124th episode of Mann Ki Baat, a monthly radio address by Prime Minister Narendra Modi. The program, which showcases stories of national interest and citizen achievements, was broadcast from India and streamed for the diaspora community in Dubai. Margherita described the session as "inspiring," praising the Prime Minister's emphasis on grassroots innovations and civic responsibility.

The Consulate General of India in Dubai shared updates on the visit via its official social media channels, noting that the Minister's presence boosted morale among staff and citizens alike. "Minister of State for External Affairs, Pabitra Margherita, joined consulate officials for the screening of the 124th episode of Mann Ki Baat," the post read, highlighting the sense of unity the event fostered among overseas Indians.

Margherita's Dubai visit concluded with meetings, ceremonial tributes, and cultural programming aimed at reinforcing ties between India and its expatriate community.
