

OpenVoiceNews Australia

Transparent. Unbiased. Yours.

Two Aussies Win $15 Million Each in Oz Lotto Jackpot

August 5, 2025

– Categories: General News

Two lucky Australians have each won $15 million after Tuesday night's Oz Lotto draw resulted in a $30 million jackpot being split between two winning tickets.

The life-changing draw was held on Tuesday evening, and while officials have confirmed the winning entries, they have not yet revealed where the tickets were purchased. The identity of the winners also remains unknown, as they are yet to come forward and claim their prizes.

The winning numbers in Draw 1599 were: 11, 32, 40, 42, 38, 29, 34, with the supplementary numbers 15, 3, and 47.

In addition to the division one jackpot winners, six other tickets across the country matched the criteria for division two, each securing a share of the $448,521 prize pool. This marks another strong round of payouts from the national lottery.

Lottery officials are urging all players to check their tickets, particularly those who purchased entries in-store or without a registered account. Past winners have sometimes remained unaware of their win for days or even weeks.

This win comes just weeks after a Tasmanian man became the state's biggest lottery winner by securing a $70 million Powerball prize, making headlines across the country.

So far in 2025, there have been 310 division one winning entries across Australia, resulting in nearly $1 billion in prize money distributed to winners. With such frequent wins, Australians continue to try their luck at the national lottery, which funds a variety of community and state initiatives.

The Oz Lotto is drawn every Tuesday night and has long been one of Australia's most popular games of chance. While most wins are modest, occasional large jackpots like this one attract significant national attention.

Winners of such prizes typically receive financial advice through official lottery services and are encouraged to remain anonymous if they wish to protect their privacy.

For those still hoping for a life-changing win, the next Oz Lotto draw is scheduled for next Tuesday, with a new jackpot already building.