July 27, 2025

– Categories: Crime

In a key turn in the Degari double murder case, police have sent Gul Jan, the mother of victim Bano Bibi, to jail following the completion of her police remand. DNA samples were collected from Gul Jan at the request of the Serious Crime Investigation Wing as part of the ongoing investigation.

Gul Jan was initially taken into custody after a video surfaced showing her defending the murder of her daughter as a justified act under Balochi tribal customs. Police have stated that this video is being treated as a significant piece of evidence.

After her two-day remand period ended, Gul Jan was presented before an Anti-Terrorism Court. The court then ordered her transfer to jail.

The case gained nationwide attention after a man and a woman were killed in the Didi area of Degari. A graphic video of the incident circulated widely on social media, sparking outrage across the country. Civil society groups, journalists, and members of the legal community called for immediate and decisive action.

The Balochistan High Court has taken suo motu notice of the incident. Senior police officials have been instructed to submit a comprehensive report on the case. Investigations remain underway, with authorities continuing to gather evidence and identify others possibly involved.

The incident has raised renewed concerns about the misuse of tribal customs to justify acts of violence, especially against women. Legal experts have emphasized the importance of upholding constitutional protections and due process in such cases.

Further updates will follow as the investigation progresses.
